November 7: Michelle Montjoy

"Knitting. Together. A Community" is the presentation title of Michelle Montjoy at the November 7 Guild meeting. Michelle is an Oceanside-based visual artist who uses knitting, crochet and needlework as both sculptural medium and action. She will discuss her recent projects River (a Creative Catalyst grant at Oceanside Museum of Art) and DomesticACTION (a California Arts Council grant at Art Produce Gallery, San Diego). Michelle's art installations are all about where art and community collide, a process whereby the community participates in creating the art. In these recent projects Michelle used over-sized knitting looms and thrift store T-shirts to connect communities while making room-sized knitted art installations together. In her presentation, she will discuss how she arrived at these concepts and the functions of domestic craft and creativity as agents for uniting communities.

A 2016 recipient of San Diego Foundation's Creative Catalyst grant, Michelle's project, River, brought over-sized table top looms to 32 communities, engaging over 1000 people in knitting material made from used T-shirts into yards-long forms.

Michelle spent many years teaching art in public schools. Michelle also knits up the occasional sweater or scarf.

T-shirts for ART

Our November speaker, artist Michelle Montjoy, incorporates t-shirt fabric into her amazing community fiber sculptures. If you have T-shirts that you're willing to give up, please bring them to the November meeting for future recycle into art. Shirts can be ready for the rag-bag; stains, holes, patterns, colors...all are acceptable! Let your old shirt(s) find a new home.

2017 General Meeting Schedule

7-Nov: Michelle Montjoy, River: A Community Art Project

4-Dec: Holiday Luncheon and Fashion Show

President's Message

by Mary Brown and Laura Brubaker - Co-Presidents
President@SanDiegoKnitters.com

Laura Brubaker

Last month's speaker was fantastic. Myra Wood is amazing in my view. Her knitting style is intuitive and the results are beautiful. I hope that all of you were as inspired as I was. As you all know, I love to use many colors in my work so her presentation was especially cogent for me. I hope that you will experiment with more colors in your future knitting projects and I look forward to seeing them during Show and Share or at the upcoming Holiday Luncheon. Keep knitting.

You will leave with a list of supplies and basic sewing instructions for the necklace design of your choice. - Date: hands-on class is November 2 ($20)
- Time: 1:00 – 3:00 p.m.
- Location: home of Lou Wanna Katz, Leucadia
- Skill Level: Basic sewing skills. You will be sewing tubes in which piping will be threaded through.

Retreat News

by June Bartczak, Retreat

Coordinator Retreats@SanDiegoKnitters.com

Twenty-two members are currently signed up for our January 2018 Retreat in Temecula, AND there are thirteen on the waiting list!! According to the venue coordinator, it will allow us to take wait-listed participants if any double-occupancy rooms are willing to convert to triples. Can you make room for another friend in your room? Please let me know if any of you confirmed participants would consider doing this. We are waiting to hear if the other group is going to release any of their reserved rooms. They have until mid-January to release their unused rooms. Our spring retreat is scheduled for May 7-10, 2018 at the beautiful Mary and Joseph Retreat Center in Rancho Palos Verdes. We need a minimum of 10-12 participants, and five people have already committed to going. Take a look at your calendar and plan on retreating with the Guild. The location is stunning and there are several yarn shops within driving distance. More about this in future Newsletters and on the Website.

Show and Share October

Colleen Davis calls her newest design Abstract Art. It's a freeform sleeveless pullover with neutral yarns as a background to showcase the abstract shapes and vivid colors.

Show and Share October

Karen Bochinski showed a Penguin, a Basic Bird, three French Hens, and a Lamb. More photos and pattern links are on her Ravelry page.

Sandra Zinn showed her Oasis Poncho by designer Yumiko Alexander. The pattern called for linen yarn and #10 needles; Sandra used a cotton/wool yarn called Geilsk and #7 needles.

Irina Anikeeva has a new design: Air Dance Top. She used Baah Yarns Aspen, a cashmere/silk/Merino blend. The raglan pattern has a lovely lace pattern on the back. Many more photos on Irina's Ravelry page.

Sheila Kirschenbaum modeled the Forest Weave Top by Yumiko Alexander. She used Aslan Trends Pima Cotton. She also did a great job on the Camino Bubbles Scarf, (below) using Schafer Trenna in Merino/silk blend.

Show and Share October

Sandy Yayanos was inspired by June's guest speaker Faina Goberstein. Using slip stitches, she knit the Nebo Pullover in Anny Blatt Brushed Alpaca yarn. The sweater is knit from the top down with waist shaping.

Nathine Nelson showed two projects. Bleeker Shawl in Malabrigo Mechita superwash wool, and Little Fans Crochet Shawl using Berroco Folio.

Tina Rounsavell used Shibui Linen yarn to make Remedy Light by Sarah Shepherd. A few more pictures can be found here.

Cally Monster designed a new shawl called Plaid is the New fad. It is knit in Baah Yarns La Jolla superwash wool using slipped stitches on a stockinette background. For more photos and pattern inspiration click here.

Show and Share October

Cary Sullivan brought Mr. Bunny, a DROPS Design knit in cotton yarn.

Debby Reece wore her Colorwork Pullover. The pattern is Sunset Highway by designer Caitlin Hunter. Yarn was Hue Loco sock yarn. Lots of close-up photos and great project notes here. Debby is holding her Madewell Cardigan by Joji Locatelli, in which she used Baerenwolle Merino/silk yarn and blended by using stripes at the hem.

Lisa Swartz (top right) made the Rochambeau Cowl using Freia Merino yarn. This was a knit-a-long at Common Threads yarn shop in Encinitas.

Show and Share October

Virginia Wilson first dyed the yarn in a class. Then she added the white and knit the first half of this project in Aug 2012. She finally finished at the August 2017 retreat. The result is Milja Uimonin's pattern Light in Shadows.

Marie Skillman wore her Sea Lace Top which was crocheted in Tahki Cotton Classic Lite. She said it was a poorly written pattern and the charts didn't match the text. With patience and rewriting, Marie's project turned out great! Marie's second project was a Shawl that was rescued with skills learned in Claudia Carlson's color class in August.

Nancy Muschek did a fantastic job on this Box Sweet Sweater from Candice Eisner Strick and Ann Feitelson. The Shelridge Yarns fingering weight Merino yarn cake in a kit. Nancy used size 3 & 4 needles. She said the pattern was beautifully designed but there were many tails to weave in after knitting.

Barbara Levin used Sweet Georgia Flaxen Silk Fine silk/linen yarn for her Tegna Top. The pattern called for 1-10" of positive ease and Barbara knit hers with just 2-3". See Barbara's notes here.

Knitting on the Net

✓ In-depth article about American Superwash Wool, how it was developed, and how it affected the wool industry in the United States. From Pigeonroof Studios.

① Vanessa Headband uses 80yds of bulky yarn for the wide version and 40 yds for the narrow version. This is a quick knit and great gift for our loved ones in colder climates!

② Ostro Shawl from Berroco uses three shades of DK yarn and US#8 needles. The pick-up-and-knit construction means minimal finishing.

③ Magic Web Cardigan is a top-down pattern with lace on the yoke. Easy to follow charts and seamless construction.

④ Arya's Water Dancer Cowl uses 430 yds of worsted weight yarn. The top uses short rows and the bottom uses Bird's-Eye lace.

⑤ Dias de Betty Pullover from Classic Elite uses a cotton/wool blend in a light-worsted weight. Great layering piece as our weather grows cooler.

⑥ Point Reyes Mitts are knit in DK yarn on US#4 needles. Lacy twisted stitches on the back and a smooth palm for added durability.

⑦ In honor of Canada's 150th anniversary, Fleece Artist has dyed a collection of yarns in the colors of the 13 national parks of Canada (example, above right). Read the article here.

⑧ Check out "Harmonic Motion," a massive, hand-knit play space in a Japanese mall.
